

Abridged Pause Recordings 2012 news update

New website, new releases

Welcome to the new Abridged Pause Recordings website! This is the second version of the website, once again brilliantly designed by Jeremy Roux. This new version features high resolution pictures of all the bands and releases, and updated information and integration of our releases into the website (thanks to Bandcamp).

We have 2 new releases coming in March 2012, and we think they are the best offerings by each band yet!

First of all the Kailash album: "Past Changing Fast: Faster Ahead", which is their second album, completely remixed and remastered to an almost brand new sound. This also features brand new artwork.

The second release coming is the fourth Vision Éternel EP. This release is truly an emotional accomplishment, and will feature guest appearances by some of the best musicians currently around in the scene. Some of them have previously on Abridged Pause Recordings. This could possibly be the last Vision Éternel album ever... but lets all hope that more will come following this!

You can hear a preview song from each of the releases in the player in the website footer. Official release news will be announced very shortly!
