

The Wolfnote

The Wolfnote doesn't seem like it much fits in with the bands on this blog, but it totally does! These guys are my first Alberta band on here. Great post-hardcore. These guys were pretty intense.

After some home burnt compilation demos they self released "Dancing to a Rhythm", their first ep. They would also self release their next two eps, "Check the Lungs for Water" and "SI! SI! SI! SI!". The later would be the first with their new vocalist Travis Sargent. After selling out the initial pressing on tour, Farway Records re-issued it in digipak. They were then signed to BlackBox Recordings, and would release their two albums on the label. "This is the Getdown" and "Sacred Bodies".

The Wolfnote Myspace

The Wolfnote Discography